Topic: Honesty

Honesty is the best policy

Story: Hadith: It is of the mainstays of the high path of Islam to be honest when one speaks. The prophet (S.A.W) said, 'Honesty certainly leads to goodness, and goodness leads to paradise.'

Story: Once, there lived a boy named Mohammed. One day afternoon, when he was walking he was surprised to see a purse. He walked a few steps to pick it up. He felt very curious to see what was inside the purse. He decided to unzip it. When he opened it to see some coins and some keys. It was the person who have lost this bag. He has not gone very far, so he was tempted to give it to the police. So he went and gave it.

Moral: Be honest and don't tell lies

Honesty is the first chapter in the book of wisdom.

Imagine how our lives would be if we were all just honest human beings; if we could trust vendors in the streets without having to bargain; if we were sure that the people around us were honest and loyal; if everyone did their job with honesty; if the leaders running our countries had our best interests at heart and were honest in every decision and action they made.

Imagine what a happy place this world would be, because honesty is the core ingredient of every genuinely good human being and that is what our beloved Prophet (PBUH) was trying to teach us through his actions.

Abdullah ibn Mas'ud reported: The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said, "You must be truthful. Verily, truthfulness leads to righteousness and righteousness leads to Paradise. A man continues to be truthful and encourages honesty until he is recorded with Allah as truthful. And beware of falsehood. Verily, falsehood leads to wickedness and wickedness leads to the Hellfire. A man continues tell lies and encourages falsehood until he is recorded with Allah as a liar."

My mother has many personal qualities. Some are good and some are not so good. The quality I admire most about my mother is her honesty. I'd rather have someone be honest with me and tell me truth than someone who just tells me what I want to hear.

Whenever I have a problem or issue I always come to my mother. She always replies with the truth. It may not be what I want to hear or I may not always like what she has to say, but I know she would never lead me wrong. My mother also puts me in check when my head gets a little too big.

Honesty is a quality that is very important to me. Which is why I admire my mother so much. We may get into disagreements sometimes but I know she is just trying to help me grow into a beautiful and prosperous young lady.
